SOPHIE MCKENZIE TO VISIT SCHOOL!

Author Sophie McKenzie will be visiting the school to talk to Years 6, 7, 8 and 9 on TUESDAY 28TH FEBRUARY. This very popular author has written a large number of books including the exciting Medusa Project series, 'Girl, Missing' and the sequel 'Sister, Missing'. The final title in the Medusa Project series will be published in the Spring. You will be able to purchase a signed copy of one of Sophie's books after the talk (Mrs Annetts will be first in the queue!). Sophie was born and brought up in London, where she still lives with her teenage son. She has worked as a journalist and a magazine editor, but fell in love with writing after being made redundant and enrolling in a creative writing course. Have you read her books? The Centenary Library has all the Medusa Project series as well as 'Girl, missing', 'Sister, missing', 'Blood ties' and the sequel 'Blood ransom'; come and have a look!

WORLD BOOK DAY....

The Library will be holding a World Book Day (WBD) Quiz on THURSDAY 1ST MARCH - will anyone be able to take the crown from Jenny Spencer? Come and join in—it is a lot of fun! Chocolates and sweets for ANYONE who borrows a book on WBD!

CONGRATULATIONS TO YEAR 8!

Year 8 participated in a Readathon last term - friends and family sponsored them to read as many books as they could during the Autumn term. The sponsorship money was collected and sent off during the Christmas holiday. The money will go to support 3 children's charities— CLIC Sargent and Roald Dahl's Marvelous Children's Charity and ReadWell. We are pleased to announce that Year 8 raised the amazing total of £419.15! WELL DONE!
