

Centenary Library News

Autumn 2009

★ Oliver! ★

This term is an exciting one for The Centenary Library as we will be upgrading our library issue system. We are changing to a system called Oliver (linking in nicely with the senior school production!). This will mean that girls and staff will be able to access the Library catalogue and their own details from home.

More information about our new system will be available in the Library at the end of September, but watch this space; it is going to be amazing!

HOUSE BOOK QUIZ

The House Book Quiz will take place during National Children's Book Week from Monday 5th to Friday 9th October. Listen out in assembly or visit the Library for more details.

BOOKS FOR SCHOOLS

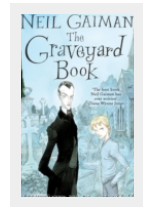

Many thanks to everyone who collected Books For Schools tokens last term. The Library claimed a large number of free books over the summer, some of which are shown here. Visit the Library soon to see all the new books in stock this term.

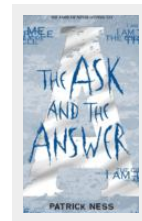

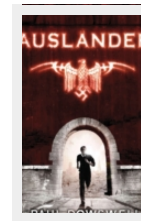

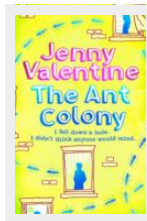

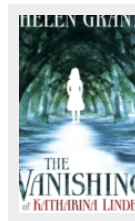

Visit your school library to read the latest books shortlisted for prestigious prizes:

Booktrust Teenage Prize

The six books shortlisted for the Booktrust Teenage Prize 2009 are now available in The Centenary Library. Why not read the books before the winner is announced and fill out one of the special review cards available in the Library?

The Man Booker Prize For Fiction

A.S.Byatt, J.M.Coetzee, Adam Foulds, Hilary Mantel, Simon Mawer and Sarah Waters have all been shortlisted for the 2009 Man Booker Prize for Fiction, the leading literary award in the English speaking world. The selected books make up a strong shortlist, with thundering narrative, great poetry and sharp human insight in abundance. Borrow them from the Centenary Library and decide for yourself before the winner is announced on October 6th.

National Poetry Day

Listen out for poetry springing up in unexpected places on Thursday, 8th October...

Visit your school library—you never know what you might discover!
